

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

TUESDAY EVENING, NOV. 6, 1894.

Rises to-morrow at 6:57; and sets at 3:43. High water 2:35 a. m. and 8:00 p. m.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—For this week, fair; somewhat colder to-night; a cold rising temperature Wednesday; north-westerly winds, becoming variable.

The election has progressed in a very quiet manner today and about as slow as registration proceeds. There is too much of the "let it go" about it for some and parties who have all their lives been depositing their ballots in the ballot box, are entering the booths in a hesitating way as though about to engage in something they didn't understand. The voting was by no means spirited and, certainly contrary to general expectations, the colored element seemed to have lost their love for the franchise privilege. The ticket distributor (whose occupation is gone) had to view the situation from afar, no one being allowed within forty feet of the polls after his ballot had been cast. The democratic managers have worked assiduously to bring out the full vote of the party, but in some instances they encountered no little obduracy from people who periodically suffer from general apathy. It is believed, however, that by the time the polls close the bulk of the party will have voted. The indications are that the city will give Meredith a majority of about 400. Messages received at this office from Alexandria county up to 2 o'clock state that the county will give Meredith a majority. At four o'clock this afternoon the number of votes cast was as follows:

First ward, 396 white and 79 colored; Second, 231 white and 61 colored; Friendship precinct, Third ward, 291 white and 21 colored; Courthouse precinct, Third ward, 457 votes; Fourth ward 517 votes.

Interest in other portions of the country, especially New York, is intense. Dispatches will be received and read tonight at the Western Union and the Postal Telegraph Offices, the Opera House, the Exchange and Ball-Room, the Fairfax Club Room and at other places.

JUSTICE WHITE MARRIED.—Hon. Edward Douglas White, associate justice of the Supreme Court, was married to Mrs. Virginia Montgomery Kent, widow of the late Linden Kent, of this city, at the Jesuit Church of St. Francis Xavier in New York yesterday morning. Only the immediate relatives and friends of the bride and groom, numbering about twenty in all, were present. The nuptial mass was celebrated by Rev. Thos. E. Murphy, S. J., president of the New York College, assisted by Rev. Alphonsus Dufour, S. J., of Holy Cross College, Worcester, Mass., both old friends of Justice White's family in Louisiana. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert Fulton, S. J., who was formerly a professor at Georgetown College, Washington, at the time Justice White was studying there. The witnesses were Mr. A. R. Bronsseau, a half-brother of the groom, and Mr. Emile Montgomery, a brother of the bride. Immediately after the ceremony the party, accompanied by the clergyman, drove to the Hotel Victoria, where a wedding breakfast was served. The bridal party numbered nineteen. Justice White wore street dress and black hat, trimmed with lilacs. Justice White is 49 years old, and has not before been married. Mrs. White is 35 years old, and is a handsome woman of stately carriage. It is understood that Justice and Mrs. White will take a short wedding trip in Canada and then return to Washington, where their new house is all ready to be occupied. Many romantic stories have been published concerning the love story which culminated in yesterday's marriage. The bride and groom, however, have denied that any previous engagement ever existed between them. The story goes that Justice White and Miss Montgomery were lovers years ago, but drifted apart until she finally married Mr. Linden Kent, one of the richest and most prominent lawyers of the capital. It is also said that Justice White remained single for more than twenty-five years out of regard for her, and that he met her again quite accidentally at the Capital. The facts are that they were children together, grew up in the same part of Louisiana and have been lifelong friends. When the Justice first came to Washington as Senator he met Mrs. Kent again, and when her husband died, a few months later, he rendered her whatever assistance he could in settling up her estate. Their engagement followed in due course.

MEETING OF COMMITTEES.—A joint meeting of the committees on public property and on poor of the City Council was held last night to consider the question of allowing the electric rail road between this city and the Driving Park to be placed as near the Poor House building as is contemplated. Since the City Council granted the privilege of laying rails through that property some have been averse to having a railroad pass as close to the building as is proposed. By the present route it is intended to run the track about 30 feet from the east front of the building, and in doing so it will pass close to the outhouses and obliterate the garden. After some discussion the committee determined that Chairman Leadbeater and Fannon, of the two committees, in conjunction with Mr. J. M. Hill, of the Driving Park, visit the premises to-morrow and see what can be done toward settling the matter to the satisfaction of all parties concerned. Mr. Hill assures the committee that he and the railroad company are ready to enter into agreement whereby the matter can be settled to the entire satisfaction of all interested, and that there will be an amicable adjustment of the matter after these gentlemen have consulted is almost assured.

HENRY'S THEATRE.—The sparring contests at Henry's theatre last night were largely attended. The preliminary bout between Hite Peckham and Frank Hogao was a very uneven match, Peckham hitting Hogan whenever he pleased. The bout between Johnny Glynn and Johnny Boyle was a very even match. There is no doubt that Boyle would have been the victor but for an accident that occurred in the sixth round, when Boyle made a swinging blow at Glynn, dislocating his arm; but that did not stop his fighting, he saying in the ring until the round was finished. Glynn pounded on him for two and half minutes, Boyle only using his right arm to defend himself, showing Glynn that he could not knock him out. Glynn is thought to be very much overrated. Hite Peckham announced from the stage that he would meet Jack Ryan, of Chicago, at his offer for eight rounds for $250 a side and the gate receipts, weigh in at 145 pounds, give or take a pound.

R. E. LEE CAMP.—The regular monthly meeting of the R. E. Lee Camp, Confederate Veterans, was held last night.

The committees appointed to locate the graves of the confederate dead in this vicinity made a full report. The commander announced the death of Kinloch Nelson and Amos Slaymaker, when on motion the election of a chaplain to fill the position made vacant by the death of Comrade Nelson, was laid over for further action.

The following committees were appointed to prepare suitable resolutions of respect: To the memory of Comrade Nelson—L. M. Blackford, Jno. S. Blackburn and G. Wm. Ramsay. To the memory of Comrade Slaymaker—Thos. W. White, Wm. H. May and C. J. Wise.

Considerable business of a private nature was transacted.

PERSONAL.—Mr. and Mrs. Carter Smith have returned from their wedding trip to Charlottesville and Warrenton.

Miss Cora Cochran has returned from a visit to Charlottesville and Warrenton.

Mr. J. R. Caton, of this city, made a democratic speech at Haymarket Saturday night, which is highly spoken of by all who heard it. His tariff argument was convincing and met with the hearty approval of his hearers, most of whom were farmers. Mr. Caton says from all he heard when away from Prince William will give Meredith a good majority to-day.

Mr. Harry Power, who is now practicing law in Washington, came to this city, his old home, to-day to cast a democratic ballot.

DR. NELSON'S SUCCESSOR.—The Board of Trustees has elected the Rev. S. A. Wallis to fill the vacancy in the faculty of the Theological Seminary caused by the death of the Rev. Kinloch Nelson, D. D. Mr. Wallis is a Canadian by birth, but has lived in Virginia for many years. He is about thirty-five years old. Ever since his ordination he has had charge of the Public Church, Washington's old church. He is a Master of Arts of the University of Virginia and one of the most scholarly divines of the church in Virginia. His appointment will give universal satisfaction. —Charlottesville Chronicle.

POLICE COURT.—Mayor Strauss presiding.—The following cases were disposed of this morning:

A colored man whose mind was becoming affected by drink was turned over to his friends.

Six tramps who had been arrested as suspicious characters were ordered to be conducted beyond the city's limits.

A white man, a former Alexandrian, charged with a misdemeanor, was released upon a promise to leave the city immediately.

Night Report.—Last night was clear and cool. One prisoner and seven lodgers were at the station house.

A SLIGHT MISTAKE.—A countryman who came to this city before sunrise this morning espied an election booth in the street, in front of the market, and concluded at once it was a retreat erected pro bono publico by a thoughtful community and proceeded to avail himself of the supposed convenience. He did not discover until later that what he supposed was a temple of Cloaca was a place in which to prepare votes.

For a pain in the side or chest there is nothing so good as a piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on over the seat of pain. It affords prompt and permanent relief and if used in time will often prevent a cold from resulting in pneumonia. This same treatment is a sure cure for lame back. For sale by L. Stabler & Co.

The Discovery Saved His Life.—Mr. G. Calouette, Druggist, Beaversville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' Wholesale and Retail Drug Store.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

From democratic headquarters in Richmond predictions of a sweeping democratic victory in Virginia to-day were given out last night.

As a result of Sunday evening services held at the King George county almshouse by Rev. John McNabb, an Episcopal chapel will be erected in the near future at Edge Hill for the benefit of the inmates of the almshouse and the people generally of that community.

Charles A. Ford, who occupies a position of trust at the University of Virginia, attempted suicide Sunday afternoon by endeavoring to sever an artery in his wrist. Failing, he then cut a deep gash in his throat with the razor. Later he had been greatly depressed. He may recover.

The remains of Rev. Dr. Thomas G. Dashiell, the Episcopal divine who died in Colon, Central America, in March, 1893, arrived in Richmond from New York yesterday and were carried directly to St. Mark's Church, of which the deceased was rector for a number of years. The funeral services were conducted at the church this afternoon.

Mr. B. Johnson Barbour, of Orange county, while walking on the streets of Charlottesville on Sunday, stepped on a dislocated brick and fell into the deep trench, which had been made by the displacement of the curbing at that point. He was rendered insensible by the fall but his injuries, it is thought, will not be serious, though the shock was a severe one.

Booker Amos, a farmer, about twenty-two years of age, was shot and killed near Boone's Chapel, in Roanoke county, on Sunday, by Elisha Murray, a farmer about forty-five years old.

Amos accused Murray of poisoning his dog, and went to the latter's residence, where he attacked Murray and his wife with a knife, wounding both slightly. He then went into the room where Murray's children were, and thence into the yard, where Murray fired at him with a revolver, the shot entering his breast and producing a wound of which he died in five minutes. Murray was arrested and taken to Salem yesterday.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

The Baptist State convention at Little Rock, Ark., at its session last night declared war on the Chicago University, declaring that Dr. Harper, president of that university, entertains and promulgates ideas at variance with the universal belief of Baptists in the divinity of all the books of the Bible.

At Watonga, O. T., on Saturday, J. P. Queen, who was living on his claim, his only companion being a small boy named Heard, was murdered and robbed while on his knees, and, from all appearances, begging for his life. To cover up their deed the murderers shot several holes through the small boy.

The trial of Benjamin Clendenin, charged with killing Dr. J. G. Davis, near Montgomery, on Aug. 9, has ended at Charleston, W. Va., in his conviction of murder in the first degree. It was established that the killing of Davis was the result of a conspiracy on the part of miners who took part in the battle with Wyant's men at Eagle during the strike there last March. Many men were wounded, and Dr. Davis was their physician. They feared his testimony against them in the trial.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 6.—The programme of the ceremonies attendant upon the removal from Livadia of the remains of the late Czar is published. The body will first be removed to Yalta, whence it will be shipped to Sebastopol and thence to Moscow and St. Petersburg. The body of the Czar will lie in state in Moscow four days.

The tug Crusader was destroyed by fire at her dock at Sault Ste Marie, Mich., early this morning. Firemen Henry Billings and Charles Williams, who were sleeping on the tug, were burned to death. Their bodies, horribly burned, have been recovered. Morgan's pile driver which was lying alongside the tug was also burned.

The cotton situation continues to favor the biggest crop every raised in Texas. It is certain thousands of bales raised will never be taken from the stalks. Just now everybody is declaring he will not plant cotton next year.

The residence of Mrs. Julie Wright in Annapolis, Md., was destroyed by fire early this morning and Mrs. Wright was burned to death. She was about 75 years old.

MAN'S TREATMENT OF WOMEN.—At the men's meeting Sunday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. hall, in Washington, Rev. Dr. McKim, the rector of Epiphany Church, delivered a practical and dress on the subject of "Purity and Chivalry." He condemned the double standard of morality that existed—loose for men and rigorous for women.

He spoke of the extent of the social evil in that city and the number of women whose lives were blasted. The responsibility for this state of affairs, the speaker said, rested upon the male sex. He denied that from motives of health or any other motive there was a sufficient justification why men should debauch themselves. He pointed out the correct ideal of life, which would be found in Jesus Christ. He urged that men should put an end to the injustice to women, and expressed confidence that men, if they will, can cleanse the world of this awful blot.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The Circuit Court for the county, Judge James Keith, will begin to-morrow evening at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Tobie Wall, formerly of this city, was last night among the heavy betters in New York on the election of Morton.

The druggists of this city have agreed to close their respective stores at ten o'clock at night, from now until next spring.

The harness stolen last week from Mr. Goings in this city and Mr. Robertson in the county has been recovered in Washington.

To-morrow racing will be resumed at St. Asaph and from then until the first of December the horses will run every day, rain or shine.

Mrs. Elvira Hill, administratrix, has sold to Mrs. Isabelle Cook a house and lot on the southside of Queen street, between Henry and Fayette, for $250.

A branch of the Alexandria Mercantile Railway Building and Loan Association was organized at Stafford Court-house last Friday with Hugh Adie as president.

The weekly meeting and drill of the Alexandria Light Infantry were dispensed with last night as so many of the members wanted to attend the democratic meeting.

Mr. J. Alfred Osburn died Sunday night at his home, near Upper Marlboro', Md., after a short illness. About a week ago he was stricken down by an attack of apoplexy.

The former brew house at the Porter brewery is now being converted into a malt storage house with a capacity of 12,000 bushels. Other repairs are being made at the brewery, which is kept "up to date" by the enterprising managers.

Mr. J. L. Loose in a note to this office says the statement recently made to the effect that his greenhouse was open to visitors was a mistake. It is open every day for those who come on business, but not for the purpose of making a free exhibition of the display.

Mrs. Annie Atwell, who was arrested last week for petty larceny and who was sent to jail in default of bail, was yesterday released, she having furnished the required bond.

Our Wrap Department

Presents an array of Garments that for style, fit, finish, material and general make-up, cannot be equalled in this country.

These Garments we are offering at lower prices than they can be had for later in the season, as the great strike among the cloakmakers in New York has put the manufacturers back so far that they will not be able to complete their orders for some time to come.

They have already sent out notices that they will have to charge an advance on former prices. This will not affect us. Our usual low prices will prevail.
